

Author Talk with Patricia Horvath

Join author Patricia Horvath as she talks about her recently released memoir titled All the Difference, Etruscan Press. Ms. Horvath's memoir tells of her painful struggles with severe scoliosis and how it affected her self-identity.

This event is free and no registration is required. Books will be available for sale and signing.

Ms. Horvath is also the author of many stories and essays published in literary journals which include The Los Angeles Review and The Massachusetts Review. She is the recipient of New York Foundation for the Arts Fellowships in both fiction and literary nonfiction and the Goldenberg Prize for Fiction at Bellevue Literary Review. She teaches at Framingham State University in Massachusetts.

Date: Thursday, September 17, 2017

Time: 6:30 – 7:30pm

Place: The Howland Public Library

The Howland Public Library/313 Main Street, Beacon, NY/845.831.1134/www.beaconlibrary.org